Junk Cars Taboo In Antioch Area

The Antioch village board Tuesday passed an ordinance making it incumbent upon a junk car owner to remove it from the village or face a possible fine of up to $500.

The anti-nuisance ordinance would have the effect of removing all junk vehicles from the area.

Village attorney Edward Jacobs explained that the new law covers any vehicle that cannot be moved under its own power.

Under the wording of the law the vehicle in question could be on either public or private property.

Jacobs said he felt the private property clause might be a little hard to enforce.

The new ordinance requires that a notice be given to the owner of the junk or abandoned vehicle.

After the written notice is given, the police department would then have the right to remove the vehicle in question.

The penalty would fall under the misdemeanor category, not calling for a jail term but calling for a fine of up to $500.

Jacobs explained that each day of violation would under the ordinance be considered a separate offense.

Water Deposit

In other action the board unanimously passed an ordinance requiring renters using the sewer and water system to post a deposit of not less than $35.

The ordinance says, however, that if the owner of the property in question guarantees the payment of the bill, the deposit is not required.

The deposit would be returned when the user terminated his use—but if the bill was delinquent the deposit would then be used to offset the charged owed.

Zoning Fee Hiked

The board also voted to hike the fee for filing petitions before the zoning board of appeals for a formal hearing from the present $25 to $100.

It was pointed out that the present $25 fee does not cover the cost of the hearing.

Jacobs told the board that the people were told that for the first few years the fee would be a nominal one but that time is now past.

Publication costs and secretarial help was blamed for the increase.

Zoning Change Okayed

A petition to change the zoning for property owned by Glen and Regina Waller on the southwest corner of Main and Quality Streets, was approved by the board.

The request for the change, approved by the zoning board of appeals, was from R-5 residential to B-2 business.

The zoning board, in approving the change, pointed out that the property had been used for business for many years.

The property is being sold to W. E. Petty, of Lake Villa, and he will establish a real estate office on the ground floor of the building.

There were no objectors to the zoning change when the public hearing was conducted.

Weed Cutting Fees

Liens against 39 lots will be filed by the village in an effort to collect weed cutting fees, the board decided.

Each of the lots in question have been cut in both 1966 and 1967 but no money has been forthcoming to the village coffers.

The assessment against each lot at the present time is $12.50.

Nineteen other lots that were cut in 1967 owe the village $6.50 each. These lots will not be filed against, however, until a two-year period had passed.

It costs $3 to file against each lot.

No Roller Rink

The village board has decided to turn down an offer by Charles Cermak, agent for William Keulman, to sell the Roller Rink on Broadway to the village for $65,000.

The board felt that the price was too high at this time.

Memorial Parade

In final action the board informed Chester White, commander of the Antioch Veterans of Foreign Wars post that it will ask the state for a permit to shut down Rte 83 for a Memorial Day parade in 1968.

White requested the closing of the avenue from the hours of 10:30 a.m. to 11:30 p.m. to allow observance of the day with a parade from the high school to a point near the village hall.

Antioch High Students Get Seminar Invite

The seminar is sponsored by the Chemical Industries Council-Midwest. Students will register between 8:30 and noon and from 1 to 3 on Jan. 13.

A feature of the seminar is person-to-person counseling by men from chemical and pharmaceutical companies in the Chicago area.

The students will receive an orientation to careers in the chemical industry through a special film and panel sessions which will cover the basic career in industry—research, production. (Continued on page three)

Antioch Board Approves Bid For Mini-Bus

The Antioch Grade School Board met Tuesday evening, December 19, and took care of many items of business.

A report was made by Richard Harlan and Harold Romaine on the 53rd Annual Conference of the joint meeting of the Illinois Association of School Boards with the Illinois Association of Administrators.

Following, Mr. Charles Malethorpe, chairman of the board's committee on professional negotiations, reported on the joint committee meeting with the teachers' committee.

Miss Mildred LaPlant, chairman of the committee of the board that meets with the high-school committee, reported on their work to try and plan closer cooperation with the high school on related problems such as busses, curriculum and supplies.

Authorization for a teaching contract was given to Mrs. Sandra MacDonald, who will teach second grade in the Antioch Building.

Three teachers came to the meeting Tuesday evening from Oakland School and asked for leaves of absence for maternity reasons. The board granted these requests to Mrs. Marie Sheldon, Mrs. Barbara Parsons and Mrs. Margaret Zoller.

A contract for a primary grade teacher for 1968-69 was awarded to Miss Sharon Enlow, who is graduating from University of Denver in March.

Bids were opened for a small educational bus and the successful bidder was Pederson Bros. Implement Company. Their bid was $2178 for a GMC 14-15 passenger bus.

A contract was awarded to Avery-Heating Company to install a range hood over the gas stove at the Channel Lake building.

Purchase of a new strip film projector for the Antioch building was also authorized.

The parking area at the Channel Lake building has been a problem for some time. There is not enough room for teachers' cars, busses and parents' cars. It was decided that the Road Commissioner be contacted to see if the parking area could be widened.

Lake Villa voters approved a $775,000 bond issue last Saturday by an overwhelming two to one margin for the building of a new school. 867 votes were cast in favor of the referendum, 414 against and there were 11 spoiled ballots.

Saturday's referendum was the fourth attempt to gain approval for raising the money to construct a 20 room school taking in grades six to eight.

The new school will accommodate 500 pupils and will be built on a 15-acre site four blocks south of Grand Avenue on McKinley Avenue. The school board hopes to have the school finished by the fall of 1969.

School Board President, Julian Dziki and Melvin E. Colbert, Lake Villa School Superintendent were elated with the voting results.

Polk Bros. Store Burns To Ground

Polk Brothers store in the Waukegan Shopping Plaza, Lewis and Glen Flora Avenues, burned to the ground early last Saturday. The fire was of undetermined origin.

This was the second fire to hit the retail furniture and appliance store since it opened in June of 1961.

Two Waukegan policemen first discovered the blaze at 3:30 a.m. Sunday morning, when they answered a burglar alarm at the store. The Waukegan Fire Department was called at 3:42 a.m. and 12 trucks were on the scene three minutes later, but the fire was out of control.

REMARKS: — Well, you just can't say much about this weather except that it's quite unusual and makes it impossible to get into your favorite winter sport, whatever it might be. I received the last weekly weather and crop bulletin and they say that November made the seventh consecutive month that Illinois has been below average normal temperature.

Crop harvest is about three weeks behind last year and four weeks behind average. We did have some help around the northern area with frozen ground at times.

Your Congressman Reports.....

By Cong. Robert McClary

It appears timely to indulge in some overall observations concerning the characteristics which distinguish the first session of the 90th Congress from preceding sessions.

First, the increased Republican membership in the U. S. House of Representatives has had a mighty impact on the direction and content of new legislation. Second, the conflict between the White House and Capitol Hill reached a climax when the House insisted on rigid expenditure control as a condition for any tax increase. And third, the dilemma created by the Vietnam war has resulted in serious political dissension, primarily between the Democratic Administration and some Democratic Members of the Senate.

The Republican influence on legislation has not been sufficiently great to permit Republican-sponsored measures to sail through the Congress. On the other hand, the Administration's "Great Society" programs have been modified to meet the most serious Republican objections. This has resulted in circumscribing the pattern of rigid bureaucratic control of the "categorical" grant programs, in favor of "block" grants in which states and local units play a greater role.

The Quiet amendment—which would have required all Federal aid to primary and secondary education to be in accordance with state and local plans and priorities schedules—did not prevail. Nevertheless, Democratic Congresswoman Edith Green of Oregon offered an amendment, embodying similar restrictions with respect to "Title III" grants (for supplementary education centers) in the final enactment of this significant legislation. This amendment was supported by both House and Senate conferees.

The enactment of the Partnership for Health Amendments of 1967, sponsored and supported by Republican Members of the House, resulted in the consolidation of 16 separately administered public health programs, and will permit state and community decisions to control the establishment of health programs to be met with federal grants. Almost $1 billion will be available during the next three years under this measure to deal with such critical problems as communicable diseases, narcotics and rat infestation, depending upon priorities fixed by local and state authorities.

The most significant impact of the increased Republican Membership in the House of Representatives was apparent in the passage by the house of the comprehensive anti-crime measure.

The Administration proposal was virtually rewritten on the floor of the House when two significant amendments were adopted, one sponsored by Republicans William Cahill of New Jersey and Thomas Railsback of Illinois, and the other by this Member. The Cahill-Railsback amendment embraces the block grant philosophy

Murphy, but it is safe to assume he will cast his lot with someone other than Ogilvie.

The recent embracing of Ogilvie by Murphy's legislative teammate John Conolly, of Waukegan, will certainly have no positive influence on the Antioch legislator.

Parties, Parties Everywhere

The Holiday season was in full swing this past week with more than one party going on. Jim and Shirley Carlson hosted a Christmas party for their many friends. Al and Phyllis Bucar also got in the party spirit for their friends. Kay Costoff hosted a luncheon with all the girls present.

John and Ann Kakacek hosted a dinner party in honor of Al and Pat Mouton and their three sons. They are here to spend Christmas with Pat's parents, the "Weedy" Keulmans, coming all the way from Venezuela! The businessmen have also got in the swing of things by honoring their employees with a Christmas party. Frosted Sno, Wilton's Electric and Seekatz Builders among some of them.

Congratulations!

To Tom and Cathy Haley on their new arrival, a little doll in pink, named Elizabeth Ann, weighing in at 6 lbs. 4 ozs. Needless to say her three brothers, Mark, Steven and Greg are delighted.

Congratulations are also in order to Dr. Loring and Ann McGee of New York, joining their hands in marriage today!

Clem and Mike Haley are both home for Christmas from Fort Gordon, Georgia. Jack Wells, Jr. is also home for the holidays.

Well wishes to Bob Gaston, who has been in Victory Memorial hospital for the past ten days.

To one and all I sincerely wish a very Merry Christmas.

First Church Presents Film For Collegians

First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Antioch, will present a film "Ambassadors For Christ at the University" on Thursday evening, December 28 at 8 p.m., in the church edifice on Beacon Hill, Rte. 173 and Harden St., Antioch.

This film tells the story of the College Biennial Meetings held in The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

In August of 1967, two Antioch area college age students, Leslie and Robert Beese, attended this three day inspirational meeting of Young Christian Scientists.

College students from as far away as Moscow were present at the meeting attended by 7,500 young people.

After the film showing, which is open to interested young people, there will be a short discussion conducted by Mrs. Harriet Wennerstrom, College Organization Representative for the Antioch church.

Quaker Industries Swamped By Shoppers

If a statistical survey were made, the Antioch area would probably show more tray tables per capita than any other city in the United States, thanks to Quaker Industries' big annual sale to the community.

Metal tray signs were posted around town directing prospective shoppers to Quaker's sale recently, and the shoppers really arrived—in such large numbers that at times there were block long lines.

Quaker employees handled the crowds with good humor and efficiency. There were items available at 1c each such as hot pads and plastic casters. For 10c one could buy a sheet of masonite (tray table size). There were fiber glass trays and bowls; laundry carts, toy carts, and of course thousands of tray tables and tray table sets, at real bargain prices. There was also shelving of all types and room dividers.

Most of the shoppers attended this sale every year and the majority plan to be back in 1968!

Secretary of State Warns of Higher Fee For Auto Driver's License

Illinois Secretary of State Paul Powell today reminded drivers that the fee for renewal of drivers licenses is now $5.

Powell said despite the fact that application blanks showing the $5 fee have been widely distributed, his office is still receiving forms where the fee is shown as $3.

Since the law, passed by the General Assembly this year, is now $5, Powell said, all applications submitted with only $3 must be returned. This causes a delay and may result in the applicant's license expiring before the new ones can be prepared and forwarded.

Powell urged that all persons applying for renewal of their licenses to use the completed application blank mailed to them 30 days prior to the expiration date of their licenses as the correct fee is shown on it.

Letters to the Editor

December 6, 1967

Perusing an article in the Saturday Evening Post written by James Kavanaugh, a former Catholic priest, I cannot help expressing pity and shame for this man who gleaned so little from the theological training he received. Not able to extol the meaning of Christmas to his former parishioners he intends to mesmerize readers for a price. It were better he left the priesthood. He speaks of a minority group who feel as he does about Christmas. He says he cannot forget Christmas but if the only memory he retains is crowds, carols and a crib, it is best he forget.

Symbolic to me are the crowds who must believe or they would not come to the church. The crib is a symbol of honest simplicity that a child can understand. And he knocks it!

The hectic rush of shopping for loved ones I do not consider a chore. Giving is implanted early and the pleasure derived when we witness the happiness a gift can bring. It is the joy God intended us to have as symbolic as the gifts of the Magi.

Mr. Kavanaugh had his opportunity to speak from the pulpit where he could have reached those who come again and again to hear the archaic story of a baby whose birthday unlocks the heart of the most discriminating.

Remember, Mr. K, there are legions of us who still feel the "old way" has stood the test for 2000 years. Doesn't that prove something?

Pearl E. Scully
(Mrs. Anthony J. Scully)
Antioch, Illinois

"...I'm sorry, he isn't in, may I take a message?" These words have been heard by many people over the years. They have brought forth answers such as "My child is very ill, please get the doctor for me" or "Tell him to call, I have a very urgent business deal to discuss" or in some cases "Oh no—Answering Service? I didn't want you!" Many times that answer delayed getting him the service he required.

Vivian Maplethorpe, with the help of her husband Jim, have helped many people over the years—24 hours a day for 16 years they have always been within reach of a phone, actually 80!

This is not just an answering service, as a few people seem to think, but a direct line to any type of business they may wish to get in touch with.

I am sure that all Vivian's customers will agree that she has been their right hand, and if asked individually, each one could remember a special call that meant a lot to them; business-wise or personal.

January 1st, 1968 is the end of an era and the beginning of a new one for the new owner. I'm sure Vivian wishes Mrs. Diemer a lot of success, plus sincerity, patience and the gift of "just being there."

For Vivian, who will have her memories, we wish health, a lot of luck for many years to come, plus the knowledge that the people she has helped over the years will not forget that she has made the Antioch Answering Service what it is today.

Christmas Seals Have Holiday Air

Christmas seals this year convey cheer—in the form of an old-fashioned toy train with goodies and gifts.

The toy train, however, has a real destination.

The tracks lead to less suffering from chronic diseases that damage the lungs and constrict breathing. Christmas Seals are symbols of the chugging crusade to combat TB, respiratory diseases, and air pollution.

In the toy train there are ten cars, including a locomotive and a caboose. Each car is a separate seal.

The ten-unit design is a first in Christmas Seal history. Not only are the seals perfect for cards and packages, they are symbolic of the spirit of sharing.

Seal Sale dollars work the year around. This year the Lake County Tuberculosis Association program provided 53,539 x-rays; 15,792 tuberculin skin tests, and quantities of health education material to schools, organizations and individuals.

Courthouse Notebook

By Lou Durkin

The small turnout of voters in last Saturday's election of County Junior College Board members is hardly an indication of the interest which centers on establishment of a junior college in the county.

Less than 6,600 turned out to elect the governing body for the new school, but when it comes time to select a site for the new school plant their will be at least 10,000 people in the county who will gladly tell the board where it should be located.

Not all of them will have selfish reasons for their recommendations and the fact that they might own the land or nearby property which will be enhanced by the proximity of a junior college won't necessarily be coloring their judgment.

The board members will also receive plenty of advice from instant experts in curriculum, faculty appointments, and other phases of school administration. Much of this advice will come from people too busy to follow the numerous press descriptions of the candidates and too busy to go to the polls to select the board members.

Former Gov. William G. Stratton, who is expected to announce his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Governor shortly after the first of the year, makes a pre-announcement appearance in Lake County on Sunday, Jan. 7.

Gov. Stratton will team with Waukegan Publisher Ward Just and Mrs. Paul Serdar of Wadsworth, in selecting the Queen and her court who will reign over the Northern Illinois Conservation Club's annual Ice Fishing Derby at Loon Lake.

Mrs. Serdar, who operates Harriet's Imperial Furs on the Imperial Mink Ranch in Wadsworth, has donated a mink cape for the queen and mink trimmed sweaters for the attendants.

Her husband served as Chairman of the Illinois Racing Commission under Gov. Stratton.

The emergence of Stratton as a candidate for governor is going to pose some problems for many Lake County politicians who have been ardent supporters of the Lake County native in the past.

Many of those who would normally support Stratton, if only because of his local ties, are already committed to John Henry Altorfer, of Peoria, or Cook County Board President Richard Ogilvie, although Strattonites are not as apt to follow the Cook County leader.

Altorfer has been slow in developing a full-scale campaign and this lagging will undoubtedly cost him support from those who might have climbed on the bandwagon if he had moved with more speed.

Many of the spear-carriers among Republican precinct committeemen and party members will be waiting for some word from their "leaders" and many of the latter won't move until they see how the various combinations of state candidates will be shaping up.

Among the leaders who have yet to indicate his choice of gubernatorial candidates is State Rep. W. J.

"I realize I haven't acknowledged receipt of most of your wonderful packages, but I have received them and deeply appreciate them.

"Yesterday, I received your Christmas package. I want to thank you very much for that. Everything in the package was put to good use. Last night, in fact, was the first time in eleven months I had popcorn at a movie.

"I hope this Vietnamese Christmas card shows some of the appreciation I feel for all you have done.

A beautiful Christmas card depicting rural life in Viet Nam was received from SP/4 Michael R. Johnson, 45th Engineering Gp. (Const), APO 96238.

Included was a letter which read:

"Greetings to all my friends in Antioch:

"I'd like to extend to you my gratitude for the many packages I have received. All of them are put to very good use.

"One of the favorite pastimes over here is to discuss our hometowns. I'm proud to say I'm from Antioch—maybe a small town in size, but surely one of the largest in generosity.

Thanks again for your thoughtfulness and may you have a Merry Christmas and a prosperous New Year."

To the People of Antioch:

The two packages containing candy, cold drink mixes and tooth paste arrived safely. Your continuing interest in the patients is deeply appreciated and they are delighted to be remembered by the people at home.

My sincere thanks to the friends in Antioch for their remembrances.

Dear Friends,

I want to thank everyone for the wonderful packages I have received while in Viet Nam. It is truly a great thing that you are doing. Unfortunately, not more G.I.'s are able to have this as I do.

I don't exactly know who all to thank, but I hope that everyone can be acknowledged through this letter.

Once again I say thank you, and I'm sure that there are many others as appreciative as I am.

Sincerely,

To the people of Antioch:

I would like to wish you all a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year and at the same time thank you for the exceptional support you have given myself and the other fellows from Antioch who are serving over here. Your gifts have been coming regularly and the other fellows on the team continually express their amazement at the spirit of you good people back home in Antioch. I haven't yet seen or heard of another town undertaking such a project.

As for myself, I am really enjoying my stay over here. I am in the Central Highlands and we are pretty well isolated out here with the only other Americans I see being the other 11 team members and pilot who drop in with supplies. As far as I'm concerned, this is well, because the people in the village here haven't been spoiled by inflation and, as a result, are more interested in Americans as people instead of merely people to make money off of.

The country is really beautiful and at times it is hard to believe there is a war going on. The weather right now is kind of nasty as the monsoon is in full swing and it gets pretty cold at night, but it should be warming up in several months.

Once again thanks for all the packages and the moral support. Both are appreciated.

A.G.S. Band Concert Is Thrilling Event

A very enjoyable and colorful beginning to the holiday season was presented by the Antioch Grade School Band December 10 in the school auditorium; it was the 14th Annual Christmas Concert.

The 45 Junior Band members played five selections well; they included a march, a hymn and a waltz.

The high standard of musicianship displayed by the Senior Band was tempered with experience and practice.

With few exceptions this group was the one that traveled to Expo '67 and so capably represented our country at the Canadian fair.

Shortin' Bread, one of the Expo selections, and a favorite with the children, was performed with gusto Sunday evening. Mambo Band with its Latin-American tempo contrasted the traditional Greensleeves. Modern and classical pieces were played with equal finesse and accomplishment.

The stage was decorated with gold and green hanging ornaments and a revolving silver Christmas tree. It complemented the appearance of the very handsome Antioch musicians.

Candy Nelson, president of the Senior Band gave Mr. Olsar a gift to show the appreciation of the band members for the effort Olsar has put into this organization.

There were many musical dignitaries in the auditorium and they were recognized by George Olsar. Kenneth Smouse acted as narrator.

Sister M. Patricia, O.S.B.; Mrs. Hilma Lightsey; Sr. M. Cecilia, O.S.B., and Sr. Helen Marie, O.S.B.; from Holy Name-Convent, Bennett Lake happily view packages 1st National Bank Employees have provided for the needy.

Packages For Needy At 1st Nat'l Bank

The packages under the Christmas tree at the 1st National Bank were given to children of five Spanish speaking families that live in the Kenosha area. They are families in destitute condition and the five families have a total of 57 children.

The packages were presented at a party at the First Church of Christ Community Church at Somers, Wisconsin. This party was an interfaith project and the sisters of Holy Name Convent, Bennett Lake cooperated to help make it a success.

All five families (67 people in all) were brought to this church in Somers. The gifts that the bank supplied were for the children from toddlers through 3rd grade. There were 35 children in that age level.

Instead of the usual grab bag at the bank, each employee donated a gift for these poor families. Last year they supplied toboggans to the Central Baptist Home in Lake Villa.

The Benet Lake community has a Spanish speaking mission for the poor in Tucson, Arizona, and according to Sister Cecilia, they continue their work in this area. Two sisters from Holy Name Convent function on the Kenosha Migrant Opportunity Board.

The intensified Marine recruit training emphasizes rigid physical conditioning and survival techniques, both at sea and ashore, to develop self-confidence and endurance. Marksmanship with the M-14 rifle and 45-caliber pistol are equally stressed, and close order drill instills the traditions of Marine Corps teamwork.

A thorough study of basic military subjects, hygiene, first aid and sanitation, and the customs, courtesies, history and mission of the Marine Corps serve to polish the new Marine's recruit education and prepare him to join the Marine combat forces.

Antioch V.F.W. Joins Canteen Book Drive

Sequiot Post 4551, Antioch, of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, has joined the state organization's headquarters in a drive to present canteen books to all hospitalized veterans at Christmastime, Post Commander Chester White said today.

The books can be redeemed at hospital canteens for the purchase of confections, reading materials, toiletries, etc., and are much appreciated by those who receive them, the commander stated.

This post and many others throughout the nation also are participating toward making Christmas a truly joyous occasion for children at the VFW national home near Eaton Rapids, Mich. Of the slightly more than 200 boys and girls at the home, about 30 formerly resided in Illinois.

The home is the only haven of its kind owned and maintained by any veterans' organization for the children of deceased or distressed members.

Citizens of the area who would join VFW in either of the Yule projects may do so by sending checks or money orders in any amount they wish to the state VFW quartermaster, W. F. Glassford, 400 S. Ninth St., Springfield 62701.

Grant Wins 84-61

A torrid shooting Grant team bent on revenge, beat the Antioch Sequoits last Friday evening 84 to 61. The great charge of the Grant Bulldogs was lead by Lee Oler, Don Koenig, Steve Spencer and Rich Heitman.

In the first half, Oler and Koenig teamed up to hit the basket with great consistency. During this period of time, the Bulldogs hit 18 of 29 shots, while the Sequoits were hitting 9 of 28 shots.

In the second half Oler of Grant was in foul trouble, sitting out most of the half, but Steve Spencer picked up the scoring habit, hitting 7 of 8 shots from the field. The Sequoits mounted a short rally midway in the third quarter as they scored eight straight points, but Spencer's fine shooting controlled the situation for Grant.

"Grant played one of their finest games in many years. I've never seen them shoot and hit the boards for rebounds as they did Friday night. Our kids played good basketball, they had only a few turnovers and hit a high percentage of their free throws, but Grant's tidal wave hit and hit hard," quoted the Sequoit mentor.

Overall statistics tell the story. In shooting, Grant shot a fantastic 59%, 33 of 56 shots, while Antioch shot 31%, 20 of 65 shots. In the all-important area, rebounding, Grant 38 - Antioch 23 and from the free-throw line, Grant 84%, 18 of 28 attempts and Antioch a very good 75% on 21 successes of 28 attempts.

The next home game will be on January 5, when conference action starts again. The Sequoit opponent that night will be Warren, here.

Ice Fishing Derby At Joe & Helen's Sunday January 7

By Harry H. Stern

The seventh annual running of the Northern Illinois Conservation Club's Ice Fishing Derby, the biggest of its kind in the state, is slated to go off with a bang at its new site on Loon Lake Sunday, January 7, 1968.

Derby headquarters will be at Joe & Helen's Little Acres on Loon Lake Road, just east of Route 83, about two miles south of Antioch. Derby participants can park their cars here free of any charges. A small mountain of prizes worth more than $1500 will be won by hardy eskimo-type fishermen and fishergals who will brave the bracing polar blasts while pursuing their favorite method of catching the finny creatures who live in the lake, and who are at their tastiest best at this time of year.

Top prize of the day is a color television set donated by Big John Teresi Chevrolet Olds of Antioch, and First National Bank of Antioch. Second prize is a Remington Model 870-TC trap-grade shotgun, and third prize is a Winchester Centennial Model 94 Deer Rifle, both donated by State Bank of Antioch. The fourth prize, a Stainless Flatware Set, was donated by Joe & Helen's Little Acres.

Fifth, sixth and seventh prizes consist of Electric Carving Knife; Electric Can Opener - Knife - Pencil Sharpener; and set of Stainless Cutlery.

There will be some 60 hourly prizes for catching specified species of fish, as well as awards for the largest of each of these at day's end, plus many prizes for winners of special events which will be run all day, starting at 9 a.m.

In addition to all the fishing fun, some lucky girl will be crowned Ice Queen, and she will reign over the derby, with her court of two girls, after being selected in competition.

A panel of prominent Lake Countians is being assembled to pick these three girls. Their names will be made public next week after their appointment is confirmed.

Through the generosity of Paul Serdar's Harriet Imperial Furs, Wadsworth, the Queen will wear a Capelet of Emba Jasmine Snowdrift Mink, and the girls in her court will each wear an imported embroidered Cashmere Sweater with a White Emba Mink CCollar.

The Ice Queen will spend "a day on the town in Chicago wearing a White Stag winter coat donated by Gibbs & Jensen, Antioch. As gifts for the Queen keep coming in, it is expected they will exceed $1,000 in value.

Species of fish eligible to win prizes, and the nature of the special events will be made public as soon as the NICC prize committee headed by Milton Brozik, Antioch, establishes them, probably by January 5, 1968.

Sequoit To Play In Rockford Classic

The Rockford Classic opens December 27 with defending champs Dixon playing Chicago Carver. Other games the first day finds Rockford playing Elgin, Larkin, Dundee vs. Winnebago and Willowbrook vs. Rockford Auburn.

The Antioch Sequoits play on Thursday evening, at 8:30 p.m. Their opponent is Rockford Guilford. With a win, the Sequoits will play on Dec. 28th, at 8:30, their opponent the winner of Sandburg-Chicago Harlan. If the Sequoits lose, they will play at 11 a.m. on Dec. 20, their opponent, the loser of Sandburg-Chicago Harlan game.

Be sure to keep the Dec. 28th open for the basketball tournament game. We have always taken a fine crowd to the Rockford tournament, let's continue this fine tradition. This is one of the reasons we are asked back every year, the team, coaches and the school appreciates this fine attendance.

The tournament favorites are Rockford Auburn and Chicago Carver in the upper bracket, and Peoria Manual and the winner of the Antioch-Rockford Guilford game in the lower bracket.

McHenry Club Has Big Shoot Sun. Dec. 24

By Harry H. Stern

The McHenry Sportsmen's Club will touch off the holidays with a blaze of shooting fun on Sunday, December 24th, at 11 a.m. As a starter for a pleasure-filled day, JoPat Antioch Packing House will treat all who attend this shoot to a free feast of their home-made hot dogs, as a Holiday Greeting. And the Charles Barnes family, who dish up the toothsome refreshments at the club shoots, will pop for free coffee.

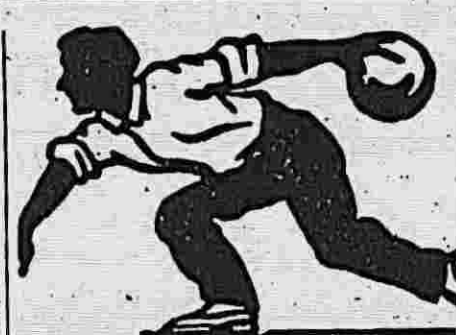

In addition to shooting for tender-aged JoPat steaks and young chickens, trap chairman Len Huhn, Ingleside, has come up with a supply of fruit cakes and Christmas baskets, thus providing the gunners with festive prizes of the season.

All the popular club shoots, including Hi-Lo, Hi-Lo-White Bird, Double, Triple, and Quintuple White Bird Shoots, plus protection and Annie Oakley Shoots will be on the program.

One week later, a pre-New Year Shoot will be held on Sunday, December 31, starting at 11 a.m. with a popular shoot program scheduled, and contests which are designed to be won by all classes of shooters.

A new slate of officers elected at the December 4th meeting will take over direction of the club. They include Wallace E. Manz, Fox Lake, president; Lewis Pitzer, McHenry, vice-president; Harry Stern, Antioch, secretary; Adrian Armit, McHenry, treasurer; Len Huhn, Ingleside, trap chairman. Two new directors elected are Arvid Hamrick, Woodstock, and Joseph Lally, McHenry.

The McHenry Sportsmen's Club is on the west side of Pistakee Bay, and can be reached from the east via Route 134 Big Hollow Road, to its western terminus, then a right turn for 1/2-mile. From McHenry it is north on Chapel Hill Road to Adams Repair Shop, then a right turn to the Y and a left for 1/2-mile. From the west the route is through Johnsburg, east across the Fox River to Adams' shop.

Happy Family

The Richard Mauck family are happy this Christmas. Dick's brother, Marine Cpl. Roy E. Mauck, came home from Vietnam last Wednesday. Their mother, Mrs. Margaret Mauck of Round Lake, and the rest of the family, hadn't seen him for about a year and a half. Little Pat Mauck was hoping his uncle would be home in time for his birthday on the 14th, and he just made it. May and his fiancée, Diane Jones of Round Lake Beach will soon be getting married.

Hawaiian Vacation

Their three children, Jo Anne 10, Bill 6, and Bobby 2, went along with them and the older ones attended the Thomas Jefferson School while they were there. They left here Oct. 17 and returned home Nov. 28.

Grandparents

Hubert and Zelma Bechtol, 2200 E. Witchwood Ln., became grandparents for the fifth time, when their daughter, Mrs. Charles (Alice) Moran, 917 Linden, Waukegan, gave birth to a 7 lb. 10 oz. baby girl on Dec. 12, at Victory Memorial Hospital.

Do's & Don'ts For Christmas

Christmas holidays are among the happiest of the year for most people. They also signal a period of greatly increased traffic accidents, cautions the Chicago Motor Club-AAA.

The rush and excitement of shopping, the hazards of biting winds, driving snow and slick roads all combine to create extreme dangers for pedestrians and motorists.

There are suggestions for keeping the holidays safe and happier for all:

—Don't drive and window shop at the same time.
—Don't pile packages on the front seat of your car where they may topple and distract the driver. Don't pile packages on back window ledges, either, where they may hamper vision.
—Never cross streets in the middle of the block. And don't carry so many packages that they interfere with watching where you are going.

—Take it easy when driving or walking. There's more danger of an accident when you are in a hurry or excited than when you remain calm.

If you take home the family Christmas tree in your car, make sure you still can see around the branches. If you put it in your trunk, close the lid so it does not block your vision to the rear.

—Be courteous.

—Keep all windows clear of fog, snow and ice.

—If roads are slippery, allow yourself sufficient time to get to and from your destination with safety.

Antioch VFW Will Support U.S. Policies

Sequit Post 4551, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Antioch, has called upon its members, through Commander Chester C. White, Rural Route 2, to join in the organization's nationwide and massive letter-writing drive directed at letting the "poyers-that-be" in Washington know of V.F.W.'s firm and unequivocal support of any military policies the United States chooses to pursue toward a quick and victorious —for free peoples all over the world—end to the fighting in Viet Nam.

Commander White encouraged all his fellow-citizens who feel as V.F.W. does in the matter to join in the sending of personal letters to the president and to U. S. Senators Everett M. Dirksen and Charles H. Percy.

"We feel," said the commander, "that a halt to irresponsible dissent is a more vital need of the day than a halt to the bombing of North Viet Nam."

"The time has come when all Americans who support U. S. policy in Viet Nam must be heard. Up to this point, the dissenters have had a field day and their pronouncements have gone unanswered by the average citizen."

"We must win the struggle against communist aggression or forever pay the price in respectability."

For the third successive year, V.F.W. at its 1967 convention in New Orleans unanimously voted to support "whatever action is needed to conclude the Viet Nam war in victory," White said.

California has the largest number of veterans of the 50 states, 2,749,000. New York is second with 2,445,000 veterans and Pennsylvania third with 1,684,000 veterans. Other states with more than one million veterans are Illinois, 1,48 million; Ohio, 1,43 million; Texas, 1,28 million and Michigan, 1,09 million, the Veterans Administration reports.

Merry Christmas to all!

caroling once keyed to dancing and folk-songs

Strictly speaking, the word "carol" should be applied to the lyrics written to go with a round of dancing, namely a dance measure. However, as with many words common usage has changed its meaning until now it designates almost exclusively the songs written to celebrate the Christmas festival.

The original meaning of the word "carol" is right in keeping with the first caroling, for it consisted of both dancing and singing. The "crib" of the Saviour, in the traditional setting, was placed in the center of the church at Christmas and the carollers formed a ring to dance around it.

Like the tricks performed by the juggler in the famous story, the dancing was offered reverently. Thus, some of the most famous Latin Christmas hymns were written to dance tunes.

The custom of caroling found its way into the Christian church from pagan rituals. The clergy, although opposed to the practice, had to accept it and so contented themselves with limiting its practice.

The struggle between the clergy and the churchgoers went on for years. Even as late as 1209, it was necessary for the council of Avignon to forbid theatrical dances and secular songs in churches. Little by little the religious dances were done away with. Those which survived the longest were the dances performed on Shrove Tuesday.

From the beginning, the Christmas festival, which coincided with the Latin and followed the Teutonic feasts of the winter solstice, lent itself to gaiety.

There are numerous carols still in existence dating back to the 15th century which have many characteristic features of the folksong.

The earliest collection of carols printed made its appearance in England in 1521, issued by Wynkyn de Worde. It includes the famous Boar's Head carol, which in a slightly altered form is sung at Queen's College, Oxford, England, on the bringing in of the boar's head.

Choice of Xmas tree Differs in East, West

The evergreen is the traditional tree of Christmas, but did you know that the type of evergreen preferred differs greatly from one part of the country to the other?

In New England and the Northeast the favorite trees are the balsam fir and the white spruce. In Pennsylvania there are three preferred over others: Scotch pine, spruce and red pine.

East Coast southerners like red cedar and the scarce but beautiful holly tree, as well as red pine.

In the West it's cedars and Arizona cypress and on the West Coast it's Douglas fir, blue spruce and Engelmann spruce.

Origin of Christmas Crèche

For years men have tried to find the answer to that oft-asked question, "Whence came the first manger scene?" Who was it who first gently laid the symbol of the Christ Child in a tiny rustic crib and tenderly placed Mary and Joseph on either side peering down at Him lovingly? Was it a shepherd who carved the little wooden figures while he tended his sheep or was it a devoted peasant who wanted to portray the story of the birth of Christ more realistically and vividly to his young children.

The closest link to the idea of the crèche is to be found in a fifth-century stone frieze on the walls of the catacombs under Rome. Also, there are small individual figures of a shepherd and of Mary that date back to very early Christian art. Possibly these are all that remain from part of a crèche.

Other than these, there is no evidence of a complete nativity scene which dates any earlier than medieval times.

There is far more certainty that the first representation of the nativity scene can be connected to the medieval miracle plays which were performed in the churches. Every detail of the Bible story was enacted, and in time it was expanded by various embellishments.

Then, secular scenes and lines were added and the plays finally became so crude, the church decreed they be given outside its edifices.

Francis of Assisi, observing how these dramatizations had become more worldly than religious, felt the need to reinforce the simple and sincere observances of Christianity to the people. So, in 1224, he asked permission of the Pope to set up a manger scene in the town of Greccio, Italy.

The Bible Comes Alive to Traveler in Holy Land

Tales of the Old and New Testaments seem distant in time and space. But visit Israel and the Bible comes alive.

There is Bethlehem, and Nazareth, where Christ spent his formative years with Joseph and Mary in a grotto hollowed from a limestone hill. The grotto is still there.

A visitor's first contact with Israel is likely to be at Tel Aviv if arrival is by air. Tel Aviv is a brisk, modern city with a California flavor.

Across the Valley of Emek and over cypress-studded hills lies Nazareth. It rests on the southern slopes of the Hills of Galilee, with narrow, cobble streets that climb the steep ridge. Although church spires rise above the houses, Nazareth still is an Arab city.

On the road into town, you will find Mary's Well, set below an arch of sandstone. Legend has it that this is the same well used by the Virgin Mary 2000 years ago. It may be, for the house said to be that of Joseph and Mary is nearby.

Next to the Arab bazaar is a Franciscan monastery with an enclosed picturesque courtyard.

Visit the white-walled, arched church of St. Joseph, with a mosaic of the Holy Family over the altar. In the basement is a grotto carved in rock. Legend says this was Joseph's workshop, with living quarters in the rear. Pits sunk into the floor were used as larders for meat, oil and wine.

Across the courtyard is the Church of the Annunciation.

The grotto is the place where the Angel Gabriel appeared to the Virgin Mary.

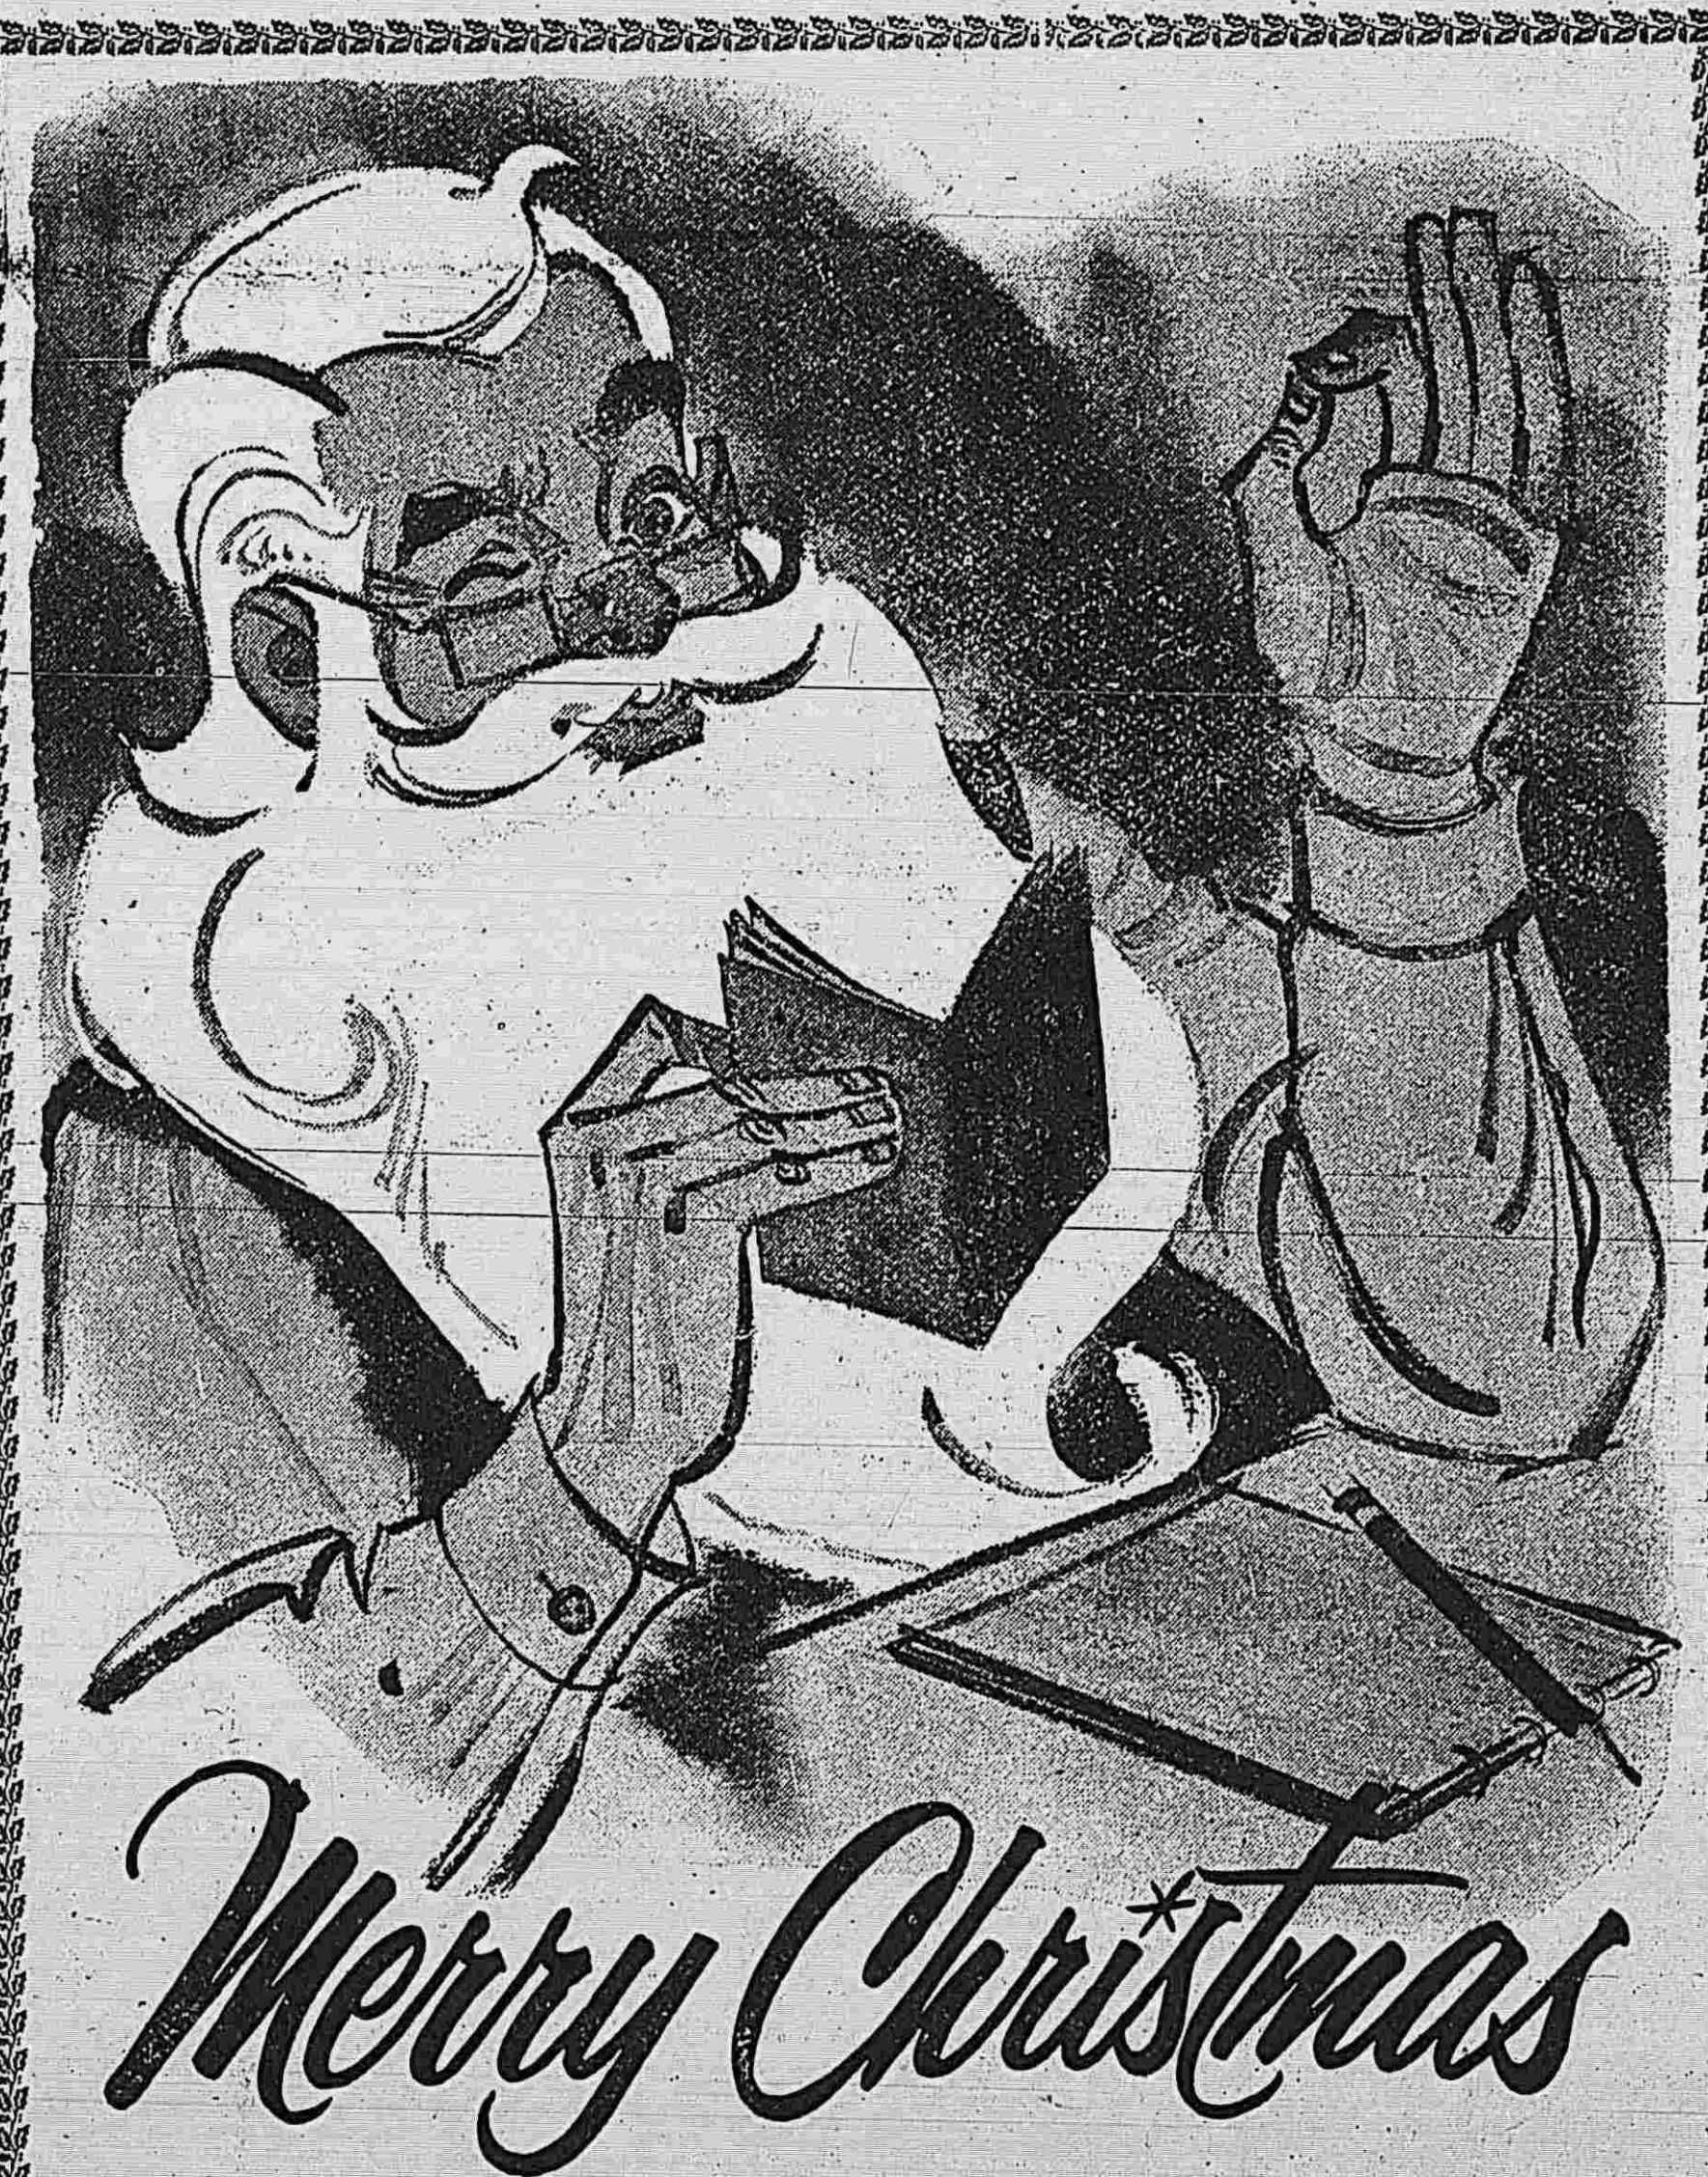

Drive over the road through the pine-laden hills of Judea, which skirt the Jordan border.

The city of Jerusalem is divided, with most of the old part belonging to hostile Jordan. And it is in that Jerusalem of Jordan where you have the Mount of Olives, Wailing Wall, the Way of the Cross, and other sacred places for the Moslem, Christian, and Jewish religions.

Israelis are making Jerusalem their capital, the nation's showplace.

But here, as everywhere in this beautiful land, the past lives vividly. At the city zoo, each cage bears a Biblical quotation. The management has to assemble at least one animal of each creature mentioned in the Bible, placing the appropriate Biblical quotation on each cage.

the Christ!

'SPECIAL TREATS' FOR CHILDREN

French children get their presents, mostly practical ones, at the New Year.

Years ago, in Scotland, the most prized treats were oranges, currants and watered-down porter ale. Today their gifts are more prosaic.

Italian children usually receive their presents on January 6, the last day of the holiday season.

In Mexico, the children receive additional gifts on Epiphany, January 6.

England is much like our country, except that gift-giving occurs on December 26.

May the Star of Bethlehem
be your guiding light,

days to come!

THE FRIENDLY BEASTS

(a Twelfth Century Carol)

Jesus our brother, strong and good,
Was humbly born in a stable rude,
And the friendly beasts around Him stood,
Jesus our brother, strong and good.

"I," said the donkey, shaggy and brown,
"I carried His mother up hill and down,
"I carried her safely to Bethlehem town;
"I," said the donkey, shaggy and brown.

"I," said the cow all white and red,
"I gave Him my manger for His bed,
"I gave Him my hay to pillow His head;
"I," said the cow all white and red.

"I," said the sheep with curly horn,
"I gave Him my wool for His blanket warm,
"He wore my coat on Christmas morn;
"I," said the sheep with curly horn.

"I," said the dove, from the rafters high,
"Cooed Him to sleep, my mate and I,
"We cooed Him to sleep, my mate and I;
"I," said the dove, from rafters high.

And every beast, by some good spell,
In the stable dark was glad to tell,
Of the gift he gave Immanuel,
The gift he gave Immanuel.

Holy Land Birthplace of World's Great Religions

Consider the divided land called the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan to the north, and the State of Israel to the south. Despite its political boundaries, it is all still Holy Land to millions of the world's three great monotheistic faiths — Judaism, Christianity and Islam (which reveres Abraham and Jesus as spiritual predecessors for Mohammed).

The major shrines of all 3 faiths are here. Jerusalem contains on the Jordan side the Christians' Holy Sepulchre, the Muslims' Dome of the Rock (the site of Solomon's Temple and Abraham's sacrifice of Isaac), and the Jews' Wailing Wall (to which the Israeli are now denied access).

On the Israel side, there is the Tomb of David, most revered of Jewish shrines, and above it the room of the Last Supper, a holy place to Christians.

Since it is a land of shrines, it is a land of pilgrimages. At Christmas-time, in anticipation of the Feast of the Nativity, Bethlehem and Jerusalem in Jordan and Nazareth in Israel are preparing for the Christian celebrants who will soon be thronging in from all quarters of the globe.

The most colorful celebrations occur on January 6 and 7 when the Orthodox Eastern Catholics observe their Christmas, and on January 18 and 19 when the Armenian Catholics hold theirs. Visitors will watch the most gorgeous processions, church dignitaries in full panoply of brocaded vestments, carrying jeweled icons and croziers, and the lay worshippers carrying lighted tapers.

Since most Arab Christians (12 per cent of Jordan) hold to the Byzantine rites of the Orthodox Eastern Church, this celebration in Bethlehem is most spontaneous and picturesque because for the season the natives wear their traditional gold-braided velvet jackets (derived from the 12th-century Crusaders) and the ladies are coiffed in medieval, veiled wimples.

In Bethlehem, which means the House of Bread the Secular Christians feast is Arab, tinged with the customs of the West.

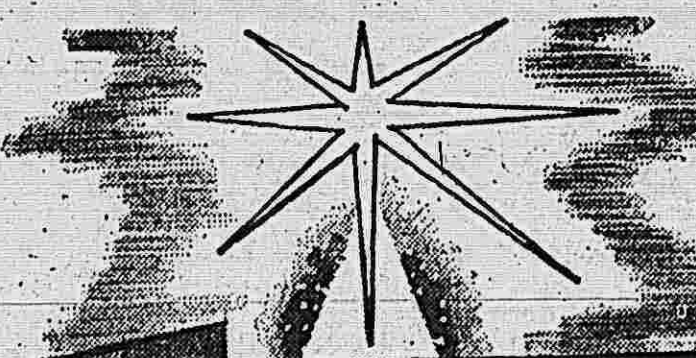

to Bethlehem, but the idea behind the gift of gold, as well as perfume based with frankincense or myrrh, is the same.

May the Star of Bethlehem lead you to the Christ Child as it led the Wise Men long ago.

Aid Christian Orphans In India . . .

Although the population is overwhelmingly Hindu, Christianity has a significant following in India. There are as many Christians as the entire population of Pennsylvania — about 12 million. And there are as many Catholics as in Great Britain — more than six million.

Four Christmases have gone by since a wealthy man left a tiny Indian boy at an orphanage in Old Delhi.

He was a lowcaste child of a niece, the wealthy man told the orphanage, and could not remain in his family. He begged them to take the child.

The little boy was baptized and cared for, but the rich man never came back.

Like other Christian children everywhere in the world, he is waiting for Santa Claus with great excitement.

He does not expect much and will not get much. Most of the money the orphanage receives from donations and the municipal government is spent on food and clothing for him and the other little children in the mission.

A little cake of soap, or maybe a whistle would make him happy.

Thousands of children in hundreds of orphanages and schools throughout India — from the snowy mountains of the north to the balmy beaches of the south — will have similar Christmases.

There are parts of India, especially in the south, as heavily Christian as any part of America.

Wherever they are, Indian Christians will be celebrating Christmas Eve and Christmas Day just like their counterparts on the other side of the world with food, sweets, Christmas trees and visits by Santa.

In New Delhi a few days before Christmas, churches sponsor pageants to collect gifts for the needy.

CHRISTMAS LEGENDS, CUSTOMS

To make sure that their crops grew, Polish peasants used to drive harmful spirits away during the 12 days between Christmas and Epiphany. They burned pine resin all night to rout witches from their homes, and on Christmas eve, they wrapped cloth around the base of trees to keep spirits out, and fired shot into fields to prevent supernatural beings from harming the land.

"Christmas" can mean a sparkling article of clothing or jewelry. In World War II, fliers used the word to describe a shower of metallic foil dropped by an airplane to jam enemy radar systems. And a "Christmas tree" in the slang of drillers means the derrick of an oil or gas well.

Called Noel by the French, Navidad by the Spanish, Natale by the Italians and Weihnachten by the Germans, Christmas in our part of the world is derived from the old English term Cristes maesse (Christ's Mass), a term first used in the 11th century.

The large part children play in Christmas is legendary. If he was lucky, the 16th century child got a ride on a huge Yule log when it was dragged into the manor house or castle.

While caroling and feasting went on during Christmas eve, the youngsters played Snapdragon, a game in which the players tried to snatch a raisin from a bowl of burning spices and spirits.

Another story credits medieval German drama with the origin of lighting a Christmas tree. In their plays, the Germans used decked-out fir trees as the "tree of Paradise," representing the Garden of Eden. When authorities discouraged public displays of this sort, the tree was used in the home.

Although in many places the custom of the "crib" has become extinct, the singing of carols is continued throughout the world, in every country where Christianity is acknowledged.

One spot which still includes the "crib" in its carolling is in West Riding of Yorkshire, England. As the children of the town go around carol-singing, they carry a "milly-box" containing figures which represent the Virgin and Child.

CANDLES PLAY XMAS ROLES

Throughout the world wherever Christmas is celebrated it is customary to place a lighted candle in the window... The legend is that candles originally were set out to light the Christ child's way as he made his visits to the children.

One explanation of the custom of hanging stockings on Christmas Eve recalls the baronial halls of England where huge fireplaces were constantly in use... Each Christmas a special log, the Yule log, was thrown on the fire... This log burned steadily as long as the feasting and celebrating continued. Naturally, it burned with a pungent odor and stockings were hung over the fireplace to absorb some of this odor and to protect the owners from evil spirits. A far cry from the present custom of loading them with goodies!

CELEBRATION REFLECTS MAN'S UNDYING HOPES

The oldest of beliefs on which our modern Christmas is based, is that the Christ child came into the world to give men the hope of redemption. It is a hope which seems to be timeless. It was so at the time Jesus came and is just as needful in this day and age.

Mighty Rome was supreme at the time and an era of peace had begun but no one could be certain it would last. Wars of increasing ferocity had prevailed for over 200 years. Wearied humanity longed for the slaughter to cease and the slaves needed the knowledge that there would be a compensation for their misery.

Now, the coming of a Redeemer was anticipated. It had been foretold centuries before by the prophet Isaiah: "For unto us a child is born; unto us a son is given." The belief was not exclusive to the Hebrews. The Romans held a belief that a "new child" was expected to bring back the age of gold, when people existed in a state of primitive innocence. And the need was manifest in other religions.

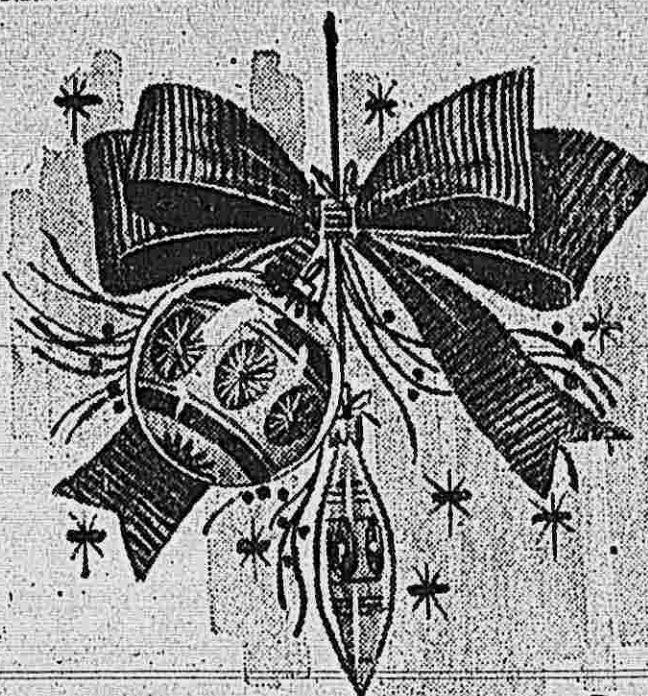

Christianity spread from the Mediterranean to northern Europe where it became inculcated with many new beliefs and observances. Some heathen tree-cult no doubt is the basis for the custom of mistletoe, the yule log and the Christmas tree, all symbolic in some way with man's hope.

Martin Luther is given credit for popularizing the use of the Christmas tree in Europe but it is believed he borrowed it from some rite of the dim Germanic past.

The Christmas tree may have been introduced in America by Hessian soldiers during the American Revolutionary War. It is said, these mercenaries, homesick for their native Black Forest, cut down the local trees and brought them inside the tents and trimmed them with whatever crude ornaments were available... modest yet bright symbols of a hope to return to their homeland.

The earliest known Christmas hymn is Jesu, Light of All the Nations, written by Saint Hilary of Poitiers in the 4th century.

However the first Christmas carol with the traditionally lighter tone was born in Italy among the early Franciscan monks.

'BE LIKE A CHILD AGAIN'

There are many tender aspects to Christmas and one which it is a joy to watch is the delight it brings to the young.

It is amazing to observe how they make special effort to be on their best behavior during the weeks just preceding Christmas. And the enthusiasm with which they make their requests to Santa is unmatched in conscientiousness.

Best of all, their faces take on a merry glow and light up like a candle as they set about opening up their packages on Christmas morning. There is oh-ing and ah-ing and screams of delight and laughter that would warm any adult's heart, no matter how jaded.

No one is ever so old, that he can't remember the many times he lay perfectly still in his bed, to avoid making the slightest sound, as he anxiously awaited the magic hour of midnight. Then tiptoeing down the stairs, silently, cautiously, you peeked around the corner to see if old St. Nick had paid his visit.

And, can you recall how, finally, the days and hours of waiting were ended with the happy realization that it was really Christmas morning.

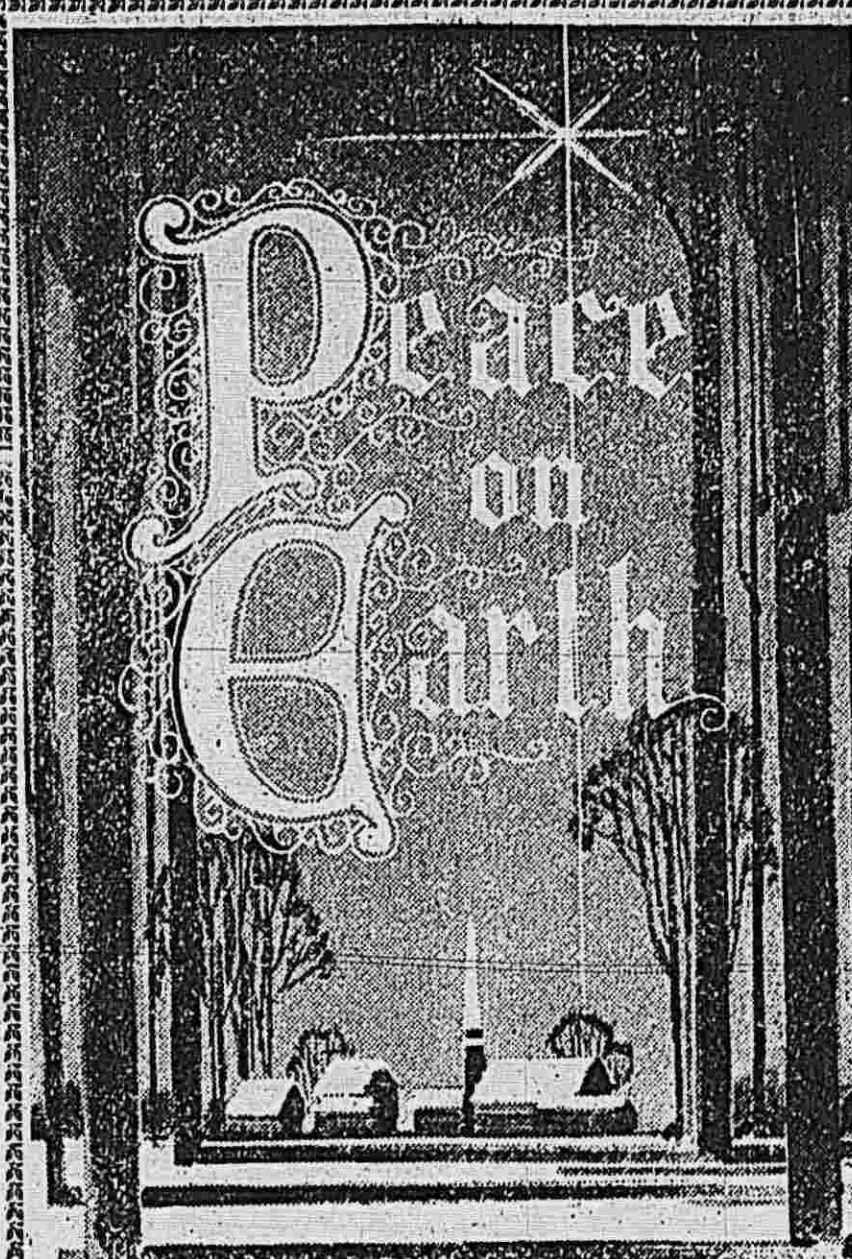

Somehow the world seemed different on that day. The clean smell of freshly cut pine. The gaiety of sparkling ornaments, the bright lights and colorfully wrapped presents greeted your pounding heart as you entered the room.

Word "Xmas" Has Religious Origin, Reverent Meaning

There has been much unfavorable comment on the abbreviated form for Christmas that is commonly used. Many think it inappropriate and undignified to use the shortened form, Xmas.

The explanation of its origin is that the initial letter of the Greek name for Christ is X and the coincidence of its cruciform shape led to an early adoption of this letter as the figure and symbol of Christ. X is frequently found on walls of the catacombs. When the early Christians wished to make a representation of the Trinity, they would place either a cross or an X beside the names of the Father and the Holy Ghost. From this came the shortened form Xmas, instead of Christmas.

In Israel, the greatest Christmas celebration will be in Nazareth, the little town in the hills of Galilee, where all is related to the boyhood of Jesus.

CHRISTMAS IS A LOT OF LITTLE THINGS

Christmas is the time of year when nostalgic feelings swell up in most of us and we find our hearts turning homeward.

The sight of a Christmas wreath on a cottage door conveying a message of welcome or the beauty and warmth of blinking lights on a Christmas tree shining through a living-room window, stir up feelings of love and companionship.

We begin to reminisce and our memories wander down through the years to many Christmas celebrations of the past and we find ourselves singling out those which have special significance for us.

Almost everyone can remember a Christmas when they received a toy that was so magnificent you thought you were dreaming and would wake up any minute. Then when you finally were convinced that it really was yours, you were certain that if Santa Claus felt you deserved such a priceless possession you must be dearly loved.

Or perhaps your thoughts meander through memory lane to a Noel when your favorite bachelor uncle paid the family an expected visit and arrived laden with all sorts of unusual and exciting presents. Once again feelings of being loved swell up in you. For Christmas is love, love shown in a hundred little ways.

Candles... symbolizing Christ as the Light of the World, play a very important part in Irish Christmas tradition. On Christmas Eve the mother or father of the house lights a candle and the whole family prays for their loved ones, living and dead. In some parts of Ireland, no one is allowed to snuff out the Christmas candle except those with the name Mary.

Ireland's Old Yule Customs and St. Patrick

Many legends are told about St. Patrick, who brought the celebration of Christmas to Ireland in the year 493. One of these is the story of the hawthorne bush.

When Patrick was a young missionary in France, on Christmas day he was walking around the countryside alone. Coming to the River Loire, where there was no bridge, he plunged into the icy water and swam across. He spread his cape on the shore to dry and, where the cape rested, there grew a hawthorne bush which by nature blooms only in summer. When Patrick removed his cloak, to his amazement he saw the bush in full bloom, weighted down with snowy and fragrant blossoms.

Since then, at Christmastime, the bush has always blossomed though other bushes remain bare. Seeking a natural explanation for the phenomena, scientists assumed that the roots of the bush were touched by a warm underground spring. Investigation showed that this was not the case.

Early persecution by their English overlords resulted in the Irish placing lighted candles in the window. Religion was suppressed. Priests were hiding but secretly visited the faithful's homes to say Mass there during the night. It was the prayerful hope of every family that, at least once, a priest would arrive to celebrate Mass during the Holy Night.

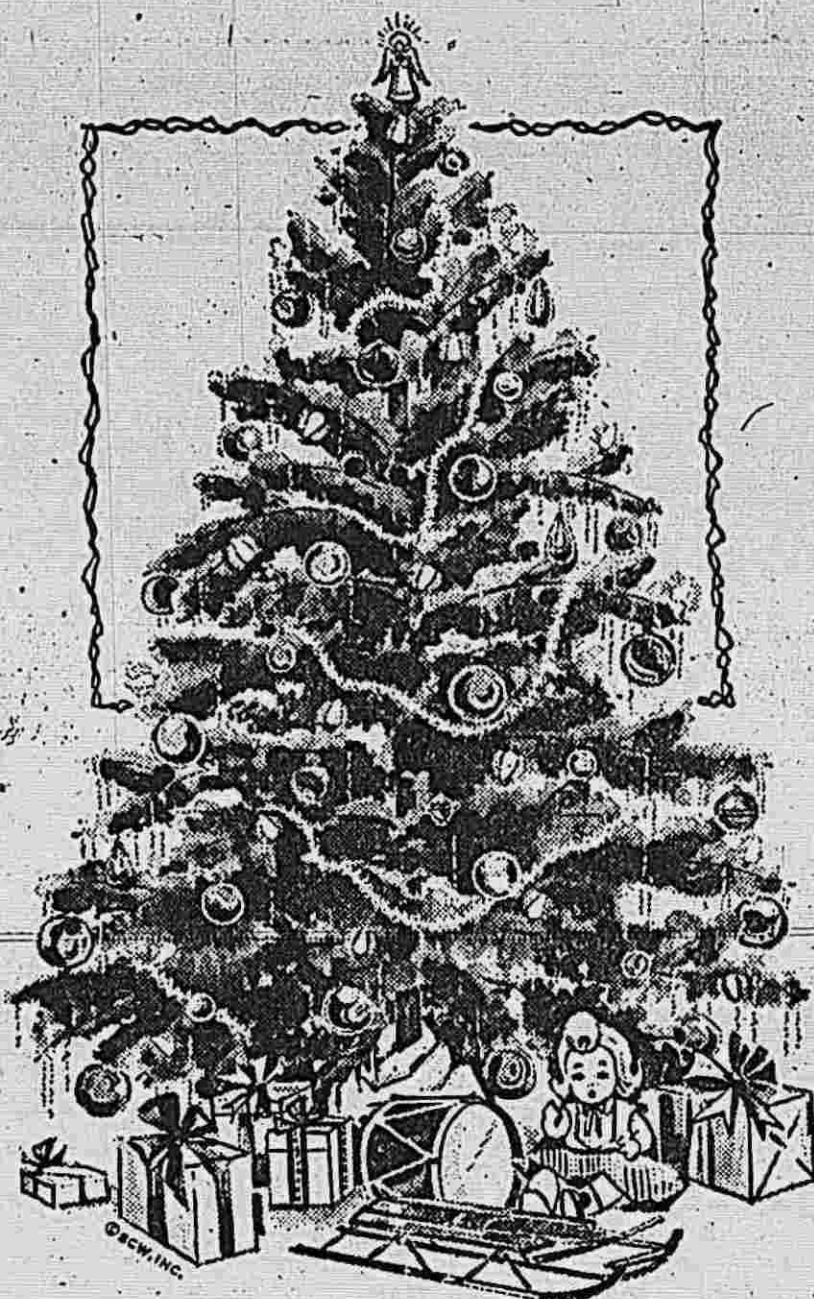

On Christmas Eve they left their doors unlocked and placed lighted candles in the window to welcome and guide any priest who might be in the vicinity.

Then Herod,

when he had privily called the wise men, enquired of them diligently what time the star appeared. And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go, and search diligently for the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also. When they had heard the king, they departed; and, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was. When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy. And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrrh. And being warned of God in a dream that they should not return to Herod, they departed into their own country another way.

St. Matthew 2:7-12

MAKE THIS CHRISTMAS FINE FINISH FOR YEAR

What will Christmas be like for you and your family this year? It is up to you to decide here and now. If you feel it should be a time of spiritual enrichment rather than a period of self-indulgence, a bit of simple planning and a lot of determination will accomplish your goal.

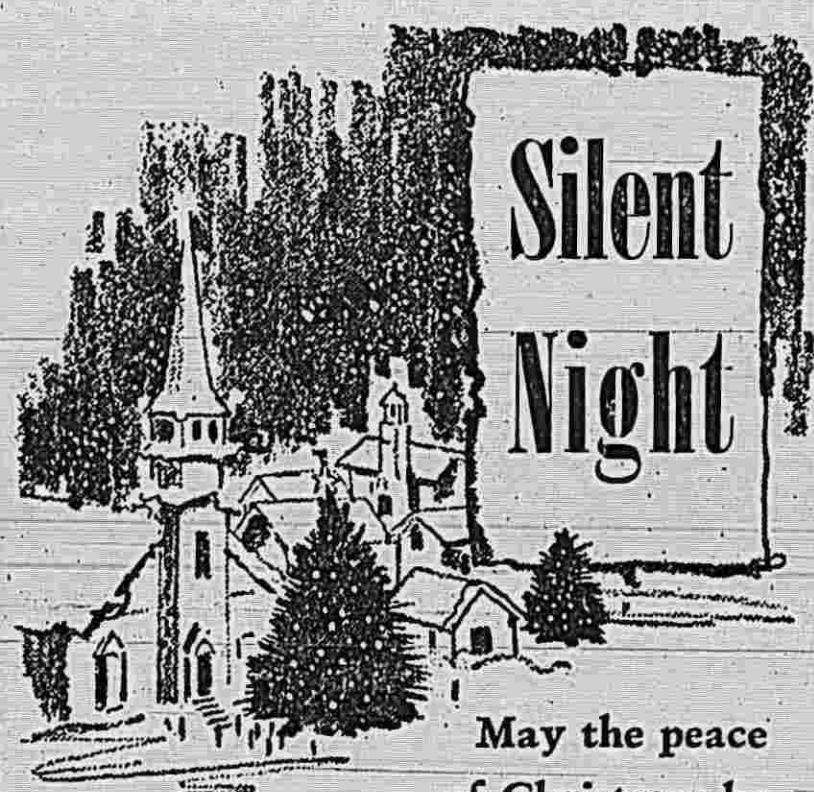

This may seem to be a large order, particularly as the traditional holiday extras mount. Our usual practice is to try to do more, on a grander scale, than we did the year previous.

Then to complicate matters, it seems that each child, friend, and organization are having a bazaar, party or program that calls for our wholehearted participation. Despite all these obligations, it is important that we recognize that if we want to eliminate the extraneous and emphasize the significant, the choice is still ours.

TRADITIONAL FOODS HAIL THE SEASON

As with so many things at the holiday season, certain foods have become traditional to Christmas. It is interesting to note the wide variation in the choice of foods from one country to another for this special occasion.

In east-central European countries (Poland, Austria, Czechoslovakia) carp is the staple around which the Christmas Eve meal is planned and goose is the delicacy served on Christmas Day.

England's Christmas fixings include plum pudding, mince pie, (also called shred pie), and frumenty, a kind of porridge of hulled wheat with sweetmeats. The main meat courses may be beef, brawn, fowl, turkey or if one wants to make a big display and act "lord of manor," boar's head and peacock in a pie.

Bob Cratchit had goose for his poor-man's Christmas dinner and during his time it seems to have been the main dish of most Englishmen... However through the years it has been displaced by turkey, for no apparent reason.

The change seems to have started quite a while back, for Washington Irving, writing about 1817, tells of turkeys on the Christmas sideboard at Bracebridge hall. Somewhat earlier, in 1796, it is recorded that an anonymous traveler could not get transportation from Norwich to London because the regular stagecoach was loaded down with Christmas turkeys.

In France, it was the custom to attend midnight mass, then go home to a simple meal, of which the main dish was blood sausage. This strict ceremonial has become transformed, in the city of Paris at least, into the Reveillon, a gorging of rich foods, such as caviar and goose-liver paste and washing them down with heady wines.

America's First Christmas Card

First American Christmas card was sent to R. J. Pease of Albany, N.Y. in 1853. Pease, a dry goods merchant, designed, printed and mailed this first card which also served as an advertisement for his products.

Mince Pies and Puritans Mingle in Yule History

Mince pies, so long a part of our Christmas tradition, originally had a deeply symbolic significance... The first mince pies were patterned in oblong shape, after the manger in which Christ was born... The crust represented the gold brought by the Three Wise Men; the many spices, the frankincense and myrrh.

On May 11, 1659, the general court of Massachusetts Bay outlawed Christmas... Anyone celebrating, stopping work, serving holiday fare or deviating from normal daily life would be fined five shillings... The righteous Puritans were sure they were acting wisely — for how could good Christians condone the pagan origin of Christmas? Did not such a holiday encourage excess in eating and drinking?... It was 22 years before that law was repealed.

In the Book of Common Prayer of the Church of England, the prayer for the last Sunday before Advent began with the words "Stir up." The people of Peterborough took this to be a reminder that they should start their plum pudding at that time, and everybody in the family took a hand in the stirring until it was ready on Christmas.

SANTA'S 'EVIL' HELPER NOW 'REFORMED'

Santa Claus has many loyal helpers all over the world and as a rule, they are just as jolly and lovable as ol' St. Nick himself — but in Germany he has a not-so-jolly henchman.

He goes by the name of Rupprecht and is a strict disciplinarian who spansks naughty boys and girls with a birch rod.

What's more, according to ugly rumor, he thinks nothing of carrying off especially bad children in a sack and disposing of them in ways too horrible to imagine.

He's a bully, an ogre and Simon Legree all rolled into one. German scholars say he is a descendant of Wotan—the German Zeus — and his "wild array" of heathen sub-gods.

It all started back in pre-Christian times when the Germans celebrated the winter solstice on December 21, when daylight hours begin to lengthen.

A big feast was held in honor of Tyr, God of the Sun, War and Justice. Legend has it that just preceding the festivities Wotan and his comrades roam the land, blessing the crops of the good and meting out punishment to wrong-doers. It is from this ancestry that Rupprecht was born.

But in this modern age of psychology and children lecturing parents, it is no longer fashionable to frighten children with such old wives tales. German store owners have therefore led the attack in revamping Rupprecht's character.

The revolt has wrought a new Rupprecht. He appears in show windows throughout Germany as a sort of Teutonic Flintstone, a good-natured oaf who is devoted to helping old Santa give out presents.

In Any Language, It's Beautiful!

"Onsket om en god og glad Jul sendes fra Hjem til Hjem."

Let it be hastily explained those words are merely "A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year." In Danish.

Now try the traditional Yuletide greeting in the Irish language:

"Nollaig shona dhuit agus ath-bhladhain Fe mhaise chugat."

For the benefit of students of language and others who would like to learn the greeting in these and other tongues, here's a sampling from the Christian world:

Czech — Vesele vanoce a stastny Novy rok.

Dutch — Prettige Kersdagen en een gelukkig Nieuwjaar.

Finnish — Hauskaa joulua ja onnellista vuotta.

French — Joyeux Noel et Bonne Annee.

German — Froehlich Weihnachten und ein glueckliches Neujahr.
